Based on the changing demographics of our communities, inclusive recreation programming is important to all of us!

Learn the fundamental information needed to understand the purpose, best practices, and long-term benefits of inclusive recreation.

This eLearning course covers:

- The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)
- The history and definitions of inclusive recreation.
- A strong introduction to effective behavior management
- Staff roles in implementing inclusive recreation

The course is offered in partnership with the National Parks and Recreation Association.
